WCTE's locally produced series, hosted by WCTE CEO Avery Hutchins, explores the people, places and history of the Upper Cumberland. With production currently on hiatus, WCTE re-aired episodes from the series' first three seasons, in which Avery talked with Todd Mayo, the creative mind behind the hit PBS show The Caverns Sessions; visited Overton County author, historian, folklorist and storyteller Darren Shell; travelled to the African-American community of Free Hill in Clay County, the former home of musician and self-taught inventor Bud Garrett; explored the importance of Native American culture in the modern Upper Cumberland; visited with a mechanical engineer who persevered through homelessness and a local athlete who transitioned from sports to ballet; explored the experience of African American veterans in Putnam County, dating back to the Civil War; and documented the life journey of local resident and acclaimed singer/songwriter Darrell Scott.
